Plan New Effort To Avert Berlin Parley Breakdown

Report Western Powers Will Send Note To Kremlin

Note Will Charge Soviet Military Governor Violated Stalin's Agreement

NOTE IN NATURE OF ULTIMATUM

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(European General Manager, U. S. S.)
PARIS, Sept. 22.—Authoritative diplomatic sources said today that the western powers are preparing a new note to the Kremlin in the effort to avert a breakdown of Berlin negotiations.

The note may be dispatched to Moscow tonight.

Repeat Western Charges

It is understood that the note, now being drafted by the "London deputation" committee, will repeat western charges that Soviet Military Governor Marshal Vasil Sokolovsky violated the understanding of the western envoys reached with Soviet Premier Stalin.

U. S. Ambassador to Britain Lewis Douglas, French Ambassador Rene Massigli, and British Foreign Office, Sir William Strang, who are writing the note, were in intimate touch with both the Moscow and Berlin talks.

While avoiding appearance of an ultimatum, their note is expected to make clear that unless Sokolovsky changes his approach, the Berlin talks cannot continue.

Renewed On Stalin Offers

Sokolovsky is said to have virtually renewed on offers made by Stalin to the western envoys in their initial conversation last August.

Stalin had promised to lift the Berlin blockade, place issuance of Berlin's currency under four-power control, and to remove restrictions on Berlin travel dating back to last January.

When the negotiations were transferred to the four military governors in Berlin, however, Sokolovsky declined to pursue the policy outlined by Stalin.

City and county residents will have opportunity next Sunday morning to catch that hour of sleep they lost last spring. Clocks will return to slow time.

Top coats were given hurried calls this morning when early rains discovered the much cooler atmosphere. Temperatures hovered in the middle forties in many sections. Some homes in the city had light fires in the furnace Tuesday evening.

Weather report for the past 24 hours reveals that temperature got down to 39 degrees above zero during the night, giving some warning that threat of frost is hovering around, in the near future.

Local industry and civic organizations are making plans to celebrate Pennsylvania week which officially opens on Sunday. Religious programs will mark the start of the observance, with open house to take place in some plants during the week.

An unusual incident took place at the Post Office on Tuesday in connection with the sale of a commemorative stamp. The stamp issued in honor of the Gold Star Mothers went on sale in Washington.

President Goes Into California

Will Speak Tonight In San Francisco And Oakland In His Campaign

LARGE CROWDS AT SALT LAKE CITY

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD PRESIDENT TRUMAN CAMPAIGN TRAIN IN NEVADA, Sept. 22.—President Truman carried his campaign for reelection into California today, moving through Nevada en route, with major speeches scheduled tonight in San Francisco and Oakland.

Encouraged By Reception
The Chief Executive left Salt Lake City last night encouraged by the reception he received there and, a day earlier, in Denver.

Mindful that his opponent, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, spoke a day behind him in Colorado's capital, Mr. Truman threw him a direct challenge when he spoke in the Mormon Tabernacle at Salt Lake City last night.

The President, who unleashed another heavy verbal attack on the Republican party and policy of serving "special interests" against the interests of the "plain people," challenged Dewey on the vital issues facing the nation today.

Greeted By Large Crowds
Mr. Truman was received by tens of thousands on his arrival in Salt Lake City.

They jammed the streets and sidewalks from the station through the downtown section to his hotel, across from the Mormon Tabernacle where he delivered his address.

The President's main theme was that Republican "greed" to exploit the West will be renewed (Continued on Page Two)

Missing Woman Is Being Hunted In Pittsburgh Area

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Missing Persons Bureau today was asked to search for Mrs. Louise Beers, about 45, who left her home in Rockville, Conn., last Sunday to visit a brother-in-law in nearby Carnegie.

The brother-in-law, Frank Sams, said a woman called his home Sunday night, identified herself as Mrs. Beers, and said she would "be right out."

Mrs. Beers, who is familiar to Pittsburgh, did not arrive. Sams said. He checked with her family and learned Mrs. Beers had boarded a train for Pittsburgh.

Governor Dewey In New Mexico

To Conclude Day's Campaign With Speech At Albuquerque Tonight

GREETED BY LARGE CROWD AT DENVER

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

ENROUTE WITH DEWEY, Sept. 22.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey carried his presidential campaign into New Mexico today, drawn more by the urgency of a tough senatorial fight than by that state's four electoral votes.

Five speeches were scheduled for the Republican nominee, ending tonight at Albuquerque where he will give his views on how to avoid a third World War and save America from an economic boom and bust.

Speaks In Denver

Dewey made his bid for Colorado's six electoral votes in a major speech at Denver where he charged the Truman administration with "careless policies" on natural resources and promised a "brand new approach."

An estimated 50,000 persons lined Denver's downtown streets to see the New York governor, the approximate number which turned out the day before to see President Truman.

Informal speeches were planned today at Trinidad, Colo., and Raton, Las Vegas, and Santa Fe, N. M., for the Republican campaign before his 8:30 p. m. (MST) address at Albuquerque.

Seeks To Aid Senators

Dewey aides have made no secret of the fact that his entire 8,000-mile western trip was planned with an eye to close senatorial contests which might decide control of the upper chamber in the 81st Congress.

There appeared to be little other reason for Dewey's concentration of four speeches in New Mexico, or for his invasion tomorrow of adjoining Arizona, also a state with only four electoral votes.

New Mexico went on the "must" (Continued on Page Two)

TEMPERATURE DROPS IN STATE

(By International News Service)

Fall begins at 11:22 (EDT) tonight, but you won't see an almanac to know it in western Pennsylvania.

Temperatures are supposed to drop to about the same minimums as last night, when it generally was in the 40s in the region.

Phillipsburg was the extreme, with a low reading of 23. Brookville had 35, Erie 40 and Pittsburgh 45.

The weather forecast hints a possibility of slightly warmer temperatures Friday afternoon.

Bernadotte Program For Palestine Peace Approved By France

By PIERRE J. NUSS
(By International News Service)

PARIS, Sept. 22.—The French government approved today the "last testament" proposals for a Palestine solution, made by United Nations Mediator Count Folke Bernadotte.

An official statement issued coincident with deliberations of the U. N. general assembly at the Palais De Chaillot said that France favors the plan as "a useful basis for negotiations."

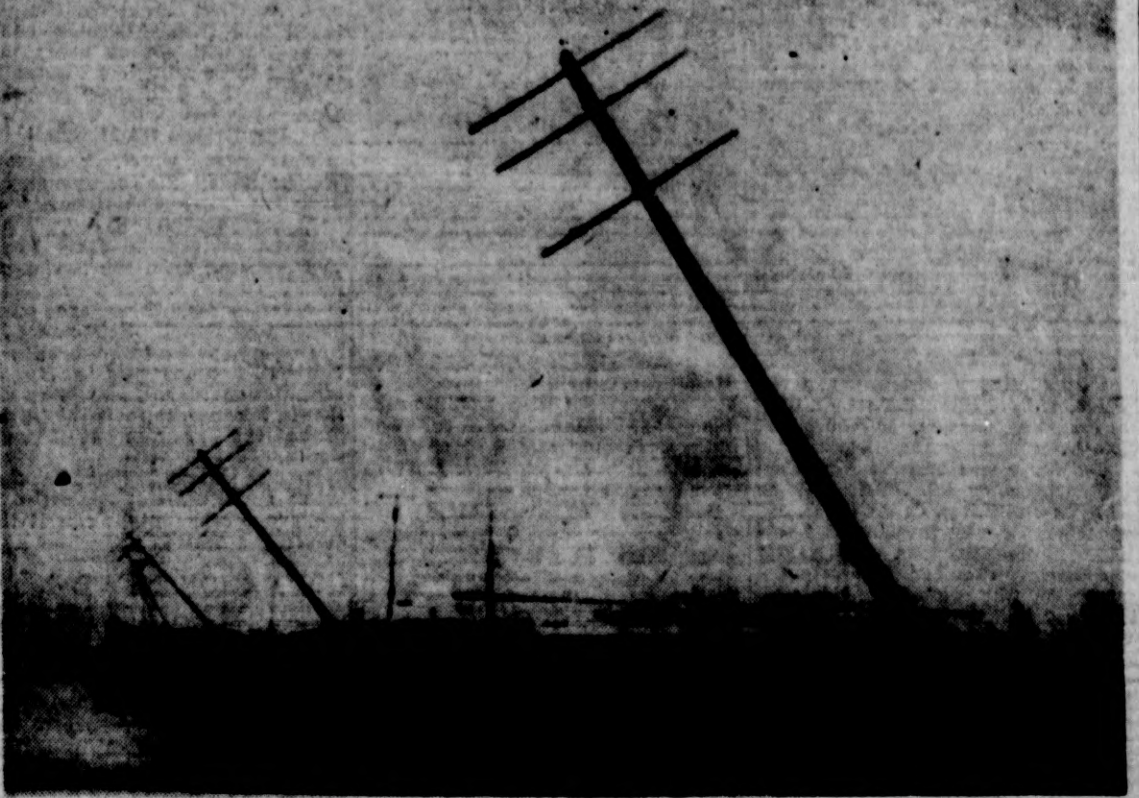

Supported By Marshall
U. S. Secretary of State Marshall yesterday gave unqualified support to the Bernadotte proposals, which provide for an "imposed peace" boundary guarantees and recognition of Israel.

Count Bernadotte's plan was received at U. N. headquarters in Paris only a short while before his assassination in Jerusalem last week.

News of France's decision, with regard to Palestine was the early highlight of today's assembly session, at which seven vice-presidents were elected.

Lorain, Ohio, Plant Destroyed By Blast, Fire That Follows

Thirty Families Evacuated From Homes; No One Injured In Plant; Damage $250,000

LORAIN, O., Sept. 22.—(INS)—Thirty families returned to their homes in the area of the Brush-Beryllium Company in Lorain today after a violent explosion engulfed the plant in flames and caused $250,000 damages.

The families were evacuated late last night when it was feared that a smoke stack 180 feet high would be blown up.

Succeeding explosions every few minutes fed the flames as the two-story brick building on Lorain's lakefront burned furiously.

Two employees were in the plant at the time the fire broke out, but neither was injured.

Chemicals used in atomic bombs were stored in the plant and were believed responsible for the blasts.

Fire Chief Elmer Stough said that despite efforts by seven fire companies, the building probably would be a total loss.

Some 200 workers, busy on an expansion program, had left the plant several hours before the fire broke out.

The plant occupies about half of a city block and was to have been reopened Dec. 31.

Nephew In San Francisco Gives His View On Death Of Uncle

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—(INS)—Bohus Benes, who resigned as Czechoslovak consul general in San Francisco, believes his late uncle, former president Eduard Benes, was murdered by agents of the present Communist regime in Prague.

He voiced this belief in a talk before the Kiwanis Club yesterday. He admitted he didn't have proof but said he knows "it exists, just as I know proof that (Foreign Minister Jan) Masaryk was murdered exists."

Strange Coincidences
Benes cited what he called "strange coincidences." He recalled that the Communist Czech regime had said his uncle "could not live more than six months" and exactly six months later he died.

He said his uncle's personal physician, Dr. Oscar Klinger, had told him the former Czech president "was in excellent health for a man of his age when he saw him last April." The resigned consul added:

"Finally, although hardening of the arteries was given as the cause of his death, my uncle was only 64—not old for a man with one brother 87, another 72 and a sister over 70."

Races Across Central Florida Citrus Fields At 100 Miles Per Hour

Moving Toward Atlantic Coast Between Daytona Beach And Melbourne

MIAMI ESCAPES WORST OF STORM

By JAMES RUSSELL
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

MIAMI, Sept. 22.—Hurricane winds raced across Lake Okeechobee and the rich central Florida citrus fields today at 100 miles an hour, leaving two dead and millions of dollars damage.

The lethal winds and swirling rains made a bee-line for the Atlantic coast between Daytona Beach and Melbourne. A devastating toll of wreckage was left in the storm's wake.

The island city of Key West, bearing the full brunt of the storm, suffered a crushing blow. Winds raked the city at a 100-mile-an-hour clip.

Miami escaped the giant force of the storm. The Florida metropolis was brushed by blasts of full hurricane force but escaped major damage.

A newsmen at Key West termed the hurricane "the worst in 30 years."

Orchards laden with oranges and grapefruit were buffeted by the powerful winds today. A less-potent hurricane caused several million dollars worth of damage in that area in 1946.

An 8:30 a. m. (EST) bulletin from the Miami weather bureau placed the storm center "very close" to Clewiston, Fla., which lies in the heart of the Everglades sugar cane and ramie fields.

The U. S. engineer's office at Clewiston reported winds topping 80 miles an hour and said the city was under a foot of water.

Expect Dikes To Hold
The U. S. engineer said the Okeechobee dikes are expected to stand firm under the big blow.

Although the raging tropical storm lost some of its viciousness as it moved inland, it still packed winds of more than 100 miles an hour, the weather bureau warned.

The hurricane is expected to pass out to sea late tonight near Melbourne.

Woman Hurt As Auto Overturns

Mrs. Mary Kelso, aged 73 years, of Enon Valley, suffered painful injuries, when the automobile in which she was riding, struck a pile of ashes at the side of the road and overturned on the Enon Valley-New Castle road, Tuesday afternoon.

Examination at the Jameson Memorial hospital, where she was admitted for treatment at 5:45 p.m. Tuesday, revealed a laceration of the chin, contusions of the head, left leg, and right elbow.

Hurricane Path

Center of the severe hurricane sweeping over South-Central Florida today is passing close to Clewiston and continuing north-northeast over Lake Okeechobee. The storm is expected to leave the mainland about midway between Daytona Beach and Melbourne, and head out to the Atlantic coast. Solid arrows show both of storm and broken arrows its expected course.

Bevin Assails Soviet Stand

Says Russia's Attempt To Drive Allies Out Of Berlin Is "Dastardly"

(BULLETIN)

LONDON, Sept. 22.—(INS)—British Foreign Secretary Bevin assailed today what he termed Russia's "dastardly" attempt to force the western allies out of Berlin.

Preceding his strong statement on the Berlin situation to the House of Commons, Bevin urged adoption of the late Count Folke Bernadotte's peace plan for Israel.

Bevin declared the allies are determined to proceed with administration of Berlin regardless of Soviet maneuvers.

He said: "I am not saying that we are committed to war. We have not reached that stage yet."

Vicious Attack Made On Woman By Home Intruder

SPRINGFIELD, Pa., Sept. 22.—(INS)—Mrs. Elizabeth Vichich, 34, was hacked and bludgeoned today by an intruder who invaded her home in Oreland, Pa.

Forty-six stitches were taken in the many wounds on her head and face, and one blow cut away part of her chin.

Detectives said Mrs. Vichich, mother of two young daughters, was asleep on a living room couch when the thing occurred. The children, suffering with colds, were in an upstairs room.

Mrs. Vichich neither saw nor heard her assailant and police said she apparently had been stunned by an initial blow. Physicians said she had not been criminally assaulted.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

An atmosphere of heavy gloom hung over the Palais de Chaillot in Paris when the United Nations general assembly opened its third session Tuesday.

But the most pessimistic prophets of gloom overlooked a factor that may prove to be most important when time passes and the initial shock caused by Count Bernadotte's assassination and the presumed failure of talks on Berlin has worn off.

This is the fact that France is host to the conference in surroundings that are nothing less than majestic.

It is coupled with the knowledge that France herself is in dire straits. Never lacking in enterprise and ingenuity the French may be counted on to utilize all the vast resources at their disposal in a diplomatic sense to keep the assembly meeting on an even keel and possibly spring some surprise that could turn disaster into triumph.

Since the international deterioration in Europe that Secretary of State Marshall described so grimly began with the clash of east-west wills in Berlin, France has tried to pursue her traditional role as mediator.

Handicapped in Many Ways She has been handicapped in many ways.

The French position in Germany is difficult.

The government has adopted a standing policy of cooperation with the United States and Great Britain in reconstruction and revival of western Germany.

This was done, for the purposes of international solidarity against spreading Communism, despite the deep-seated feeling among millions of Frenchmen that a reborn Germany is the surest guarantee of a third world war.

France's situation in Germany has been aggravated also by a series of cabinet crises at home, which Communist propagandists have used as an argument against proof of their alleged inability to come to grips potently with a dangerous issue.

On their home grounds, as affable and generous hosts the French, however, have an ability to effect compromise and progress that are matched by few others.

Even During War This was displayed in Paris even during the war and the Nazi occupation when the authorities succeeded by one means or another in keeping the hard lot of the people.

Pierre Laval was tried and executed for his alleged "collaboration" with the Nazis.

If space had permitted I would have written more yesterday about that idea of seeing the mote in your brother's eye but not the beam in your own.

But newspaper space is precious, so I had to stop.

But I do want to say a little more on the subject, because it concerns you and me and everybody.

A couple of weeks ago I asked my readers to do something about high prices by refusing to pay them.

I said if we all stopped buying goods and services we would be asking for trouble, inflation would be over in four weeks.

That column brought a flood of letters.

Most of them praised me, others said I didn't know what I was talking about and that I was a complete failure as an economist.

Let us dismiss the letters of praise with thanks, and the letters of criticism as part of a writer's daily life.

I do want to comment, however, on some of the letters, because they illustrate so well what the Bible says about the mote in your brother's eye and the beam in your own.

Here is a typical mote-and-beam letter. It came from Pittsburgh, Pa.

The lady who wrote it calls me several unprintable names for eating steak and using cream and butter.

Let me quote a few of the more ladylike remarks of her letter: "Cream? Don't make me scream. My kiddies think cream only means ice cream cones. I buy a can of milk, pour it into a quart bottle, fill the remainder of the bottle with water and that's your so-called cream."

"Butter? It was the loudest laugh of all in your column. You are going to cut out butter and eat margarine? For the last ten years margarine has been butter to us."

"How do you think my husband and I kept our own roof and our own family plus a car to get to work if I hadn't used milk instead of cream and margarine instead of butter all these years?"

"We are not to blame for the high prices, but suckers like yourself and your wife are."

Must we, like that fellow I told you about who apologized for having married a rich wife, be ashamed of having been able to get ahead?

Washington Comment

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Republicans are making full political capital of the Communist spy disclosures unearthed in the congressional investigation. Truman campaigners are being hard pressed for answers.

However, the administration forces are beginning to slip back. This was shown by Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer's recent speech before the Veterans of Foreign Wars encampment in St. Louis.

Sawyer declared that the spy probe had not uncovered one disloyal employee now on the government payroll. He added that there has been no proof that Russia obtained any important information from espionage activities during the war.

Ironically, the spy investigation is an indirect result of President Truman's call for a special session of Congress.

Republicans denounced the special session call as a political move and once back in Washington they set off the spy hunt, results of which have been embarrassing at least in some administration quarters.

Lewis' Latest—John L. Lewis was quick to take advantage of the spy probe as an opportunity to hurl one of his frequent blasts at the Truman administration.

Through his United Mine Workers Journal, Lewis castigated the president for his refusal to surrender loyalty records of government workers to congressional investigating committees.

One eight-jet bomber, two six-jet bombers and two four-jet bombers—these aircraft are not operating in large numbers but enough are being built to teach the builders sufficient "know-how" to go quickly into mass production.

Four single-jet fighters and one four-jet fighter—of these, two types are operational in substantial numbers and the third is on large order.

In addition, jet transports and a jet helicopter are under development. Jet transports probably will not be built in quantity, because conventional-powered troop and cargo planes flying at 300 miles per hour can supply any operation thus far in the planning stage.

But the new credit restrictions are not too much of a restraint on our liberties. A sewing machine must be paid for in 15 months but a man still can take a 20-year mortgage on a house he can't afford.

If this doesn't curb inflation we will increase the restrictions on sewing machine credit.

But it cannot be said that we are cautious. . . 60 million workers owe only seven and a quarter billion dollars for goods bought on time.

In other words we are as solvent as a politician's promises and we hope not to be held to ours either.

Harry blames our financial troubles on Wall Street and he must be right. . . The Democrats would have switched from that line sometime since 1896 if he wasn't.

WASHINGTON—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, GOP presidential nominee. . . "If I am elected I promise you that on next January 20 there will begin in Washington the biggest unravelling, unsmiling, untangling operations in our nation's history."

DENVER, Colo.—President Truman. . . "The Republican platform is the most hypocritical document that has ever been put into writing."

Washington Calling

(By Marjorie Chase)

Basing Point System Aired

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—"Now you see it and now you don't." That was the cry of the old time gambler as the yobels at the country fair gathered before his gambling table to be fleeced.

Something like that technique is being used here in Washington today. Naturally, it is not so crude and some of the players in the game undoubtedly believe that it is in the public good. But what is happening before Senator Homer Capehart's special committee on trade policies certainly dazzles the eye of the casual bystander.

In April the supreme court handed down an opinion that shook big business. In a searching, carefully prepared decision, Justice Hugo L. Black upheld the charge of the Federal Trade Commission that the pricing system enforced by a trade association covering the entire cement industry was in violation of fair trade practice and the anti-trust laws. Summarizing thousands of pages of testimony, Black said:

"It seems impossible to conceive that anyone reading these findings in their entirety could doubt that the commission found that respondents (the industry) collectively maintained a multiple basing point, delivered, price system for the purpose of suppressing competition in cement sales."

In his decision Black listed all the means used by the trade association, including boycotts and the banning of shipments by truck or by any means other than rail, to enforce a single delivered price. He showed how when public bids were submitted each company submitted an identical bid even down to the fourth decimal place, although each bid was submitted separately in a sealed envelope.

The reason this opinion had such a shattering impact is obvious. In certain key industries the basing-point system has long been the method by which a few large producers exercise control. Thus it goes back to "Pittsburgh plus" in the steel industry.

Pittsburgh Plus System Under the "Pittsburgh plus" system, a steel producer in Indiana or Illinois could not undersell a producer in Pittsburgh, even with customers across the state, because he was "persuaded" to add to a fixed price the equivalent of the cost of freight charges from Pittsburgh. One result was that the industry remained frozen in the geographical and economic pattern of the past. Competitors were unable to take advantage of more favorable locations.

Promptly with the court's decision, President Irving S. Olds, of the United States Steel Corp., indicated Congress would be asked to legalize the basing-point system. That is now the objective of a major segment of industry.

Shortly after the new Congress meets in January the heat will be on. One of the first tests of a new administration will be whether it will nullify the opinion of the supreme court and make legal the pattern of industry that has prevailed.

Propaganda Barrage Ever since the court decision a propaganda barrage has been directed against it, particularly in the trade journals. It has been represented as outlawing all price systems and creating anarchy even though the Federal Trade Commission has said repeatedly that only selective and selective discriminatory practices are outlawed.

At this point the Capehart committee stepped in. The senator from Indiana has said publicly on several occasions that the aim is an objective inquiry into the court decision and its effects on industry. But it looks very much as though the inquiry had been set up with one goal—to find that industry cannot function under the law as interpreted by the court, and the FTC and that, therefore, a change is essential.

On the advisory council named by Capehart to consider the issue are a number of businessmen whose companies have been cited by FTC on the same charges. There are also trade union representatives, but they are likely on such an issue to reflect the industry point of view.

William Simon, counsel to the committee, was, until he accepted the committee assignment, associated with a Chicago law firm that represented several firms involved in charges brought by the FTC. Simon personally participated as lawyer for General Foods.

The World and the Mud Puddles

A COMMON AMERICAN

About the time President Truman was telling a campaign audience that Congress is "serving the people who have all the money" a man named C. W. Nash passed away. At the time of his death he probably had accumulated a considerable amount of wealth—enough to come under the demagogic characterization made by the President. But C. W. Nash was not always in the category of "those who have all the money."

He started his career as a painter in overalls. In his young manhood he worked as hard as any of those whom the professional friends of the people love to call "the common man."

Like most of the men who have built American industry, C. W. Nash began modestly, with brains, courage and initiative as capital. In the course of time he began making automobiles. That he survived the terrific competition of the giants of the automotive industry, and was able to put on American highways perhaps two million automobiles is tribute to his vision and perseverance.

Overlooked by Truman What Mr. Truman childishly overlooks in his rabble-rousing efforts to promote envy and class divisions is that the great majority of "people who have all the money" are not "people who have all the money" as he managed by thrift and common sense to conserve it. He well knows from (Continued on Page Seven)

JOB UPON A TIME

FOR YEARS Fritz Leiber played Shakespearean roles on the stage, and his early days he was a stock actor, playing with the Ben Greet Players, Julia Marlowe, Robert Mantell, and other greats. Leiber was born in Chicago. In high school he was an athlete and orator. He entered movies in 1917, made two silent, and didn't walk into a film studio again until 1935. The character of Charbonnet in Louis Pasteur won him fame. Recent pictures in which Leiber has appeared are Desert Song, The Spanish Main and Humoresque.

KARIN BOOTHE, born June Frances Hoffman in Minneapolis, Minn., was determined to be a great dancer. While she was modeling, however, Karin won a motion picture contract, and enrolled in a school of dramatic arts. Interestingly enough she perfected her art well enough to earn her role on The Unfinished Dance, Karin lives with her family.

ENVOY In winter bells and Christmas swing: In early May the birds sing. Summer is fair, but best, I say, Is autumn's glorious display. (Copyright, 1948, Edgar A. Guest)

When south or north or east or west, The earth is gay with coloring, As if the trees would manifest That faith to which we all should cling.

That God is good and harvesting His purpose, ere life slips away, Sublimist of all picturing Is autumn's glorious display.

When fields and hills in snow are dressed And trees their sombre shadows fling, When all things growing lie at rest, Beneath white blankets slumbering, Grim winter plays the tyrant king.

And skies too often then are gray, It seems the best that time can bring, Is autumn's glorious display.

Is autumn's glorious display.

Is autumn's glorious display.

Is autumn's glorious display.

Is autumn's glorious display.

Governor Warren Lashes Back At President Truman

Assails Truman's Statement That Republicans Are 'Pitch-Forking' Farmers

ABOARD GOV. WARREN'S CAMPAIGN TRAIN, EN ROUTE LOUISVILLE, KY., Sept. 22. — (INS) — California Gov. Earl Warren's campaign special moved across Illinois and Indiana today en route to Louisville, Ky.

The Republican Vice Presidential nominee defended the GOP's record of aid to farmers and lashed out at President Truman for his Dexter, Ia., address before continuing his trip last night from St. Louis.

Warren declared Mr. Truman's charge that the Republicans "had stuck a pitchfork in the farmer's back" was "an absurd and bitter statement, tossed off with a reckless disregard for the political realities of the nation."

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's running mate pointed out that except for the "Solid South" most of the farming states have Republican administrations and traditionally send Republicans to Congress. He asked:

"Do you think the farmers of these states would continue to vote for Republicans if they regarded Republicans as pitchfork conspirators?"

"What possible motive would the Republican party have in pitchforking its friends?"

Warren declared: "The Democratic party has never had, does not now have, and they cannot honestly claim a proprietorship over agriculture; agriculture isn't a political issue."

In Switzerland there are three officially recognized languages. German is spoken by 70.9 per cent of the population, French by 21.2 per cent, and Italian by 8.2 per cent. The remaining 1.7 per cent speak the Romansch, which is formed from the everyday Latin of the Roman soldiers.

Open House Is Being Planned At Mirror Plant

Part Of Program Locally For Observance Of 'Pennsylvania Week'

In its eleventh year as one of the many diversified industries in New Castle, the Palko Mirror Manufacturing Company will observe Pennsylvania Week by "open house" on Wednesday, September 23, from 1 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. This industry, which was established here in 1938 by John A. Palko, manufactures mirrors of all types, including beveled, mirrored, and polished edge mirrors. The plant was incorporated in 1946 and is now housed in the building formerly occupied by Frank Douds and Company at 520 South Mill street.

J. Lepore Matthews, chairman of the industrial committee for Pennsylvania Week, stated that there are more than a hundred diversified industries in the New Castle area, comprising of chemicals and allied products; clay, glass, and stone products; mine and quarry products; paper and printing industries; textiles, and a host of miscellaneous industries, all of which can be found in New Castle or in the area surrounding the city. They have all helped to build a more prosperous community, and honoring them during Pennsylvania Week is a small return for what they have done.

The fabric known as gingham derived its name from Guingamp, a town in Brittany, where the material was woven.

Law Will Catch Up With Men Not Draft Registered

HARRISBURG, Sept. 22. — (INS) — State Selective Service Director Henry M. Gross today predicted "public opinion and the law soon will catch up with draft age men who failed to register."

Gross could not estimate the number of men aged 18-35 who failed to register, pointing out that the selective service system has not yet completed computation of the number who did register. "I don't mean that a lot haven't registered, just some," he explained. "You'll find that situation all over the country."

Intentional "draft-dodgers" are subject to a $10,000 fine and five years in prison. "We undoubtedly will have some men who won't register," Gross said, "but even during World War I there were surprisingly few."

The majority of unregistered men were unable to sign up with local boards because they were away on vacation or unavailable for other reasons, he said. All of these will be registered shortly, he added.

his own service during war time on the "Truman Committee" dealing with the war industries that at most only a handful of those who have made and are operating these industries are engaged in the silly game of hoarding away dollars to satisfy a sense of greed. He also knows, thanks to New Deal extravagance, that the major portion of income received by these leading industry either as salary or dividends, is promptly taken away from them through federal taxes.

Any Group Could Do It
Any half-baked group can go up and down the country stirring up resentment against the successful. Any ignorant, envious, and envious group of equal ignorance by urging "redistribution of the wealth" or taxing the "rich" out of business. Any political sucker with a gift of gab can pose as the champion of the poor and the oppressed. But something tells us this line of appeal has outlived most of its usefulness. The beneficiaries of our vast industries, both workers and consumers, have learned—or should have learned—that the builders for the most part began in overalls, like Ford, Chrysler, Kaiser, DeSoto, General Motors and Ford, and that their tremendous developments were not achieved by hiding away gold in a safety box, but by plowing it back into the industries.

Real Democracy
One of the great and different things about the United States of America is that it demonstrates real democracy not only in the abstract, but in the concrete. The individual, no matter how humble, enjoys the fulness of liberty. But he also enjoys the possibility that he, like hundreds of others, has his chance for the rewards of skill, inventive genius and courage to take risks.

How different is the class division in the class division of the United States from this true definition of the capitalist system at work.

The prudent, penniless beginner in the world labors for wages a while, saves a surplus with which to buy tools or land for himself, then labors on his own account for another while, and at length hires another new beginner to help him. This is the just and generous and prosperous system which opens the way to all, gives hope to all, and consequent energy and progress and improvement of conditions to all.

The quotation is from a man named Abraham Lincoln.

In a case involving the price of salt.

Addressing the opening session of the council, which is to meet behind closed doors, Capehart earnestly proclaimed the goal of objectivity. But as he warmed up to his theme, he sounded very much as though he had already made up his mind on the side of those who are determined to legalize the trading-point price system.

For most people these matters are too complicated to follow. They should know, however, that they reach right down into the average householder's pocketbook. And for industry the stake may be even larger, as will be shown in a following column, then appears on the surface.

the government should throw high stakes into the tremendous gamble of the United Nations in the knowledge that a successful session, in contrast to the highdrings of Lake Success, would be a gallant plume in the helmet of French international hospitality.

Thus the authorities outdid themselves to restore the Palais De Chaillot to the grandeur that was there when the huge group of buildings was opened for an exposition before the war.

The accommodations are lavish and comfortable in the extreme. The lighting inside is more than adequate and that outside, all through the vast parks and esplanades that overlook the Seine and reflect the cobweb grace of the Eiffel tower, is truly breathtaking.

If meticulous though for creature comfort and pleasant surroundings carries any weight in these days of harsh reality, the Paris session may not be off to such a bad start as surface developments indicate.

Plan Relentless War On Highway Fatalities In State

HARRISBURG, Sept. 22.—(INS)—A "relentless war" against highway fatalities in Pennsylvania was promised today by Gov. James H. Duff's newly created Highway Safety Advisory Committee.

Acting Revenue Secretary Otto F. Messner, committee chairman, announced that the group approved plans to divide the state into traffic zones to handle the campaign locally. A strong safety organization will be developed in each under state supervision and local authorities, civic groups, motor clubs and educational leaders will be urged to join, he said.

A program of activities will be prepared for each zone committee and coordinated by the safety committee, Messner explained.

Wage Relentless War

He said the governor established the committee "to wage a relentless war" against carelessness and recklessness by motorists and pedestrians.

"Pennsylvania's record today on motor vehicle fatalities compared to other states is good but not good enough," he declared. "We propose to leave nothing undone to bring that toll down and to keep bringing it down."

"There will be no let down. This committee means business."

Other officers named at the organizational meeting are: State Police Commissioner C. M. Williams, vice-chairman; Director of Highway Safety T. E. Traneau, director and secretary; and members, Ivan J. Stehman, director of highway safety education; W. H. Herman, chief research engineer, State Highways Department; and Arthur G. Burgoyne, executive assistant, Department of Revenue.

ANNIVERSARY THOUGHT

MADRID—(INS)—Senorita Carmen Cabrera Iriarte, of Mexico, admired the great Spanish bull-fighter Manolete in life and remembered him in death. Manolete was fatally gored by a Miura bull last year. Miss Cabrera bought a huge wreath of flowers to be placed on the bullfighter's tomb on the anniversary of his death.

Generally speaking, the older oysters have the more tender meat.

PESTS TO FEED FISH

CHEYENNE, Wyo. — Wyoming ranchers are looking at grasshopper and locusts as a slightly less-jaundiced eye. The State Agriculture Department relayed to them an order from a Michigan fishing bait firm for six to 12 tons of them. The company said it would pay 25 cents a pound for the "hoppers."

The common wart is pin-head to pea-sized, skin-colored, or grayish or brownish in color, is firm and has an irregular cauliflower or warty surface.

Races Across

squalls and 50-mile-an-hour winds this morning. Schools were closed and electricity was off in many parts of the city.
Streets Are Flooded Streets were flooded in some sections of Miami and Miami Beach. Early estimates indicated damage in the Florida metropolis would be comparatively light.
William J. Evans, 46-year-old Tatum Surf hotel engineer, was hurled several stories to his death last night when he went to the hotel roof to inspect it. The mighty winds swept him from his dangerous perch.
Mrs. Benjamin Kincaid, 53, of suburban Coconut Grove, was electrocuted when she picked up a live wire in the back yard of her home.
The only major damage reported
early today was in the Florida
Keys.
The violent winds lifted roofs off houses, uprooted trees and utility poles, and wrecked or sank more than 30 fishing vessels and pleasure craft.
Some damage was caused to naval vessels at the Key West base.
Thousands Evacuated
Thousands of persons in the path of the hurricane were evacuated to shelters which had been set up when the first warnings of the hurricane came out of the Caribbean.
In Miami alone more than 6,000 persons were evacuated to storm shelters. They began streaming back to their homes last night after the hurricane by-passed the resort city.
An estimated 7,000 persons were evacuated from the rich farm land area around Lake Okechobee.
They were taken to safety at Sebring, Lake Wales and Winter Haven.
The weather bureau hoisted storm flags from Daytona Beach to Charleston, S. C.
Trees and houses in the path of the hurricane were leveled as the 80-mile-an-hour winds lashed out roads and bridges.

Wolves Clubs
Joint Meeting
Dr. J. A. Perrone, Pittsburgh, Pa.,
Is Speaker At Dinner-
Meeting Tuesday
New Castle Wolves club were hosts at a joint dinner-meeting with the Ellwood City Wolves Den
No. 21, held at The Castleton,
Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.
Dr. J. A. Perrone, of Pittsburgh, was the speaker after dinner, and he was introduced by Attorney Michael Barletta, president of the Ellwood City Wolves club.
Dr. Perrone spoke on "Bronchoscope." With the aid of slides he spoke on the diagnosis of foreign bodies found in lungs, and what damages are caused if these foreign bodies are not caught in time and removed while yet in the early stage. Questions were asked afterwards.
President Nicholas Casandra of the local group presided. He stated that other organizations or dens of the Wolves are underway in nearby vicinities.
Attorney Barletta reported that the first project for the club in Ellwood was the acquiring of sentinals for the schools. At the present time, they are raising funds for the Ellwood City Hospital.
A committee was formed who will meet at specified meetings to discuss the welfare of both clubs. Guests present included:
Albert Frenzel, Anthony Mastrian and Ed Binder, the latter of Ellwood City. A social time ensued after the program.
On October 5, the local club will meet, and at that time, the bowling league will get underway.

Farm Oddities
Shown In Film
Lions Club Sees Interesting Picture At Meeting In The Castleton,
Tuesday
MANY ACTIVITIES ARE ARRANGED FOR
New Castle Lions Club members were given an educational treat at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Tuesday noon, when they were shown a film entitled "National Farm Oddities."
This film, prepared by the Sears and Roebuck Foundation, was secured through Charles M. Bashew, manager of the New Castle store of Sears and Roebuck, and was shown by James A. Pink, county vocational agriculture director,
also a member of Lions.
The picture showed ingenious machinery in operation on farms, made by the farmers themselves to perform duties about the farm, and various other farm oddities.
Mr. Pink explained what the Sears and Roebuck Foundation has done for farm youths in Lawrence county, and stated that there are four schools which have vocational agriculture departments. He felt that it would be fine if the Lions and other service clubs would sponsor a youth for a short course in agriculture at Penn State College, which would cost around $100, and would aid some boy in furthering his farm education.
Perfect Attendance Award
A five-year perfect attendance button was presented to Past President Charles Lumley.
Plans for the field day at the
New Castle Field Club on October
6, were outlined by Past District Governor Arthur W. Meek. Visiting clubs will be invited to attend on this occasion, and following golf in the afternoon, dinner will be served.
Pennsylvania Week, which starts
Sunday, was explained by Jacob Wachtman, executive vice president of the Greater New Castle Association.
Jack Gilliland, of Detroit, Mich.,
talked about the ceiling projector project which New Castle Lions have sponsored, and has placed a projector in the Public Library for use of invalids who are unable to use their hands, enabling them to read books which are projected on the ceiling by microfilm. These projectors were war surplus, made for the government for use in hospitals and can only be secured through service clubs. They can be obtained free of charge through the library.
Worrell M. Jones spoke of the band concert, which the Lions Club is sponsoring on October 21 for the blind fund and of the football game during November.
Guests included: F. E. Baughman, Canton, O.; H. H. Young, Cleveland Heights, O.; Loyal Darby, Cleveland, O., and Jack Gilliland, of Detroit, Mich.

Temperature Close
To Freezing Point
Local truck gardeners who still have garden stuff in their fields scanned the skies apprehensively last night, as the mercury started to drop and a clear sky in evidence.
The official temperature dropped to 39 degrees, only seven degrees above the freezing point, and in some outlying sections, a light frost probably occurred.
Most of this summer's crops,
which would be damaged by frost, have been harvested by now, but there probably is a little late corn, beans, tomatoes, etc. still in gardens.

Five Major Hurricanes Strike U.S. Mainland Since Turn Of Century

MIAMI, Sept. 22.—(INS)—Five major hurricanes have struck the United States mainland since the turn of the century, causing a death toll of nearly 10,000 and an estimated damage of $200,000,000. All occurred during September.

The Florida coast and Gulf Coast states have borne the brunt of these fierce winds. One struck the New England states.

September 8, 1900, Galveston, Tex., was hit by a hurricane and tidal wave, taking 5,000 lives and causing 17 million dollars damage.

September 18, 1926, a hurricane lashed the east coast of Florida, took 375 lives, left 40,000 homeless and caused property damage of 185 million dollars.

September 12, 1928, a hurricane struck Florida killing 4,000 persons and caused hundreds of thousands of dollars in damage.

September 21, 1938, New England was lashed by a hurricane leaving 488 persons dead in its wake. This was the severest recorded storm of the northeastern states.

September 17-18, 1940, Florida and the Gulf coast were hit again. The hurricane swept through Florida, across the Gulf of Mexico and struck Louisiana and Mississippi. Damage was estimated at approximately 26 million dollars and 37 persons are known to have perished.

LASSES LIKE LASSES
Lads and lasses usually like sweets. Molasses provides sugar and iron. Ginger bread and ginger cookies are very popular with boy and girls. Old people like them too.

With a cup of milk they make a good snack for Buster and Grand dad.

Buster doesn't worry much about iron. He gets hungry. He knows what he likes to eat. He likes molasses because it tastes good.

He perhaps does not know that there is molasses in ginger cookies.

He doesn't care very much. Maybe Grand dad doesn't know that there is iron in molasses. He likes ginger bread anyhow.

Grand dad needs iron just the same as Buster does.

If Susie gets plenty of iron she will probably be prettier than ever.

Former UNRRA Nurse Visiting Red Cross

Miss Alice F. Woolridge, recently released Nursing Field Representative of Western Pennsylvania, is making her first visit to the local chapter of the American Red Cross.

During a three day visit Miss Woolridge will meet with the local chairman of the nursing services, Miss Elizabeth Taylor, the vice-chairman of enrollment and disaster nursing Mrs. Thomas Dickey, Jr., local groups interested in nursing and chairman of the disaster committee, Ralph Davis. The subject of these meetings will be the stimulation of the Red Cross three-fold program in regard to nursing.

Pool Of Nurses Planned

The establishment of a pool of nurses who would be available for duty in disaster and disease stricken areas is the fundamental goal in the program. This reserve of nurses would help assure adequate care for victims of disasters like Texas City or disease epidemics like the recent poliomyelitis in North Carolina. To have a similar list of nurses available for duty in cases of emergency in the immediate area is an extremely important part of this program.

Training Home Nurses

Training a greater number of home nurses to help alleviate the current shortage in nurses is part three of the Red Cross plan. Teaching home nursing classes in the schools as Miss Anna Swanik has done successfully in Ellwood City and having more training classes in the chapter houses will enable the Red Cross to meet an objective of having a home nurse in every home.

Miss Woolridge, a resident of Pittsburgh, recently spent two years in Greece working for the UNRRA. Miss Woolridge stated that she was very concerned with the food problem in Greece and only recalled her duty on the Aegean Islands where 10 per cent of the 50,000 inhabitants have already died of starvation. Aid from overseas was adequate for feeding most of the children but many of the parents died because of the food shortage there. Miss Woolridge also served in Peloponnese before returning to this country.

Penna. Power Co. Wins Award In Safety Contest

Pennsylvania Power Company was among the electric companies receiving safety awards at the Pennsylvania Electric Association's annual meeting today. The local company placed second in Group 2 of the Annual Safety Contest, this group covering companies which average 60,000 to 200,000 man-hours of work monthly.

Among Group 1 companies, those which average over 200,000 man-hours monthly, Metropolitan Edison Company of Reading took first place; Pennsylvania Power and Light Company of Allentown, second; Philadelphia Electric Company, third.

First place in Group 3 was won by Pennsylvania Water & Power Company of Lancaster, while Scranton placed third after Pennsylvania Power.

Group 3 companies, those averaging less than 60,000 man-hours monthly, included three companies which had perfect no-accident records. These were the South Penn Power Company of Waynesboro, Natrona Light & Power Company of Natrona and Abington Electric Company of Clarks Summit.

Records of the combined Pennsylvania companies show an accident frequency rate of 0.97—

44% lower than the rate of the National Safety Council's Electric Group; and a severity rate 40% lower than that of the national group.

State contest figures also show a decrease of 5.4% in the number of accidents involving lost time, and a frequency rate drop of 10.1% from the previous year.

For Homes, Camps

THE HEATILATOR FIREPLACE circulates heat to every corner of the room and adjoining rooms. Saves the heat that ordinary fireplaces waste up the chimney. The scientifically designed heating chamber of the Heatilator Fireplace is concealed in the masonry where it draws cool air from floor level, heats it, and returns it to the room.

Heatilator installation eliminates the usual causes of smoking. It saves fuel bills during cool weather. Puts no limit on mantel design. Adds but little to the cost of the finished fireplace.

PUBLIC STATEMENT BY MEDUSA PORTLAND CEMENT CO.

On August 27, 1948, the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers International Union, affiliated with the A. F. of L., caused strikes to be called in our plants at Silica and Bay Bridge, O.; and at Wampum, Pennsylvania. About 1,000,000 sacks of production have been lost to date.

In the spring of 1948 representatives of the Cement Industry negotiated an understanding with the representatives of the above Union for a ten-cent hourly increase and one to two weeks vacation with pay, effective for the ensuing year.

Pursuant to this understanding, the above Union has signed agreements with 68 cement plants, including four of the seven plants operated by this Company. Our employees have been repeatedly offered the same terms in the plants now forcibly closed.

The above Union is demanding increases substantially higher than they have demanded of our competitors. In fact, they demand a 50% greater increase from us.

These are the first strikes we have had in our entire history of fifty-six years.

Medusa fully understands the great need for cement at this time, and the effects upon the public and our customers. This we deeply regret.

In resisting this attempted discrimination we believe that we are doing a service, not only to our employees and stockholders, but also to the public.

Marcel Cerdan, New Middleweight Champion Of World

Dramatic Knockout Finishes Tony Zale

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(INS)—Co-managers Plan and Winch were to decide today whether or not Tony Zale—dethroned and de-horsed as middleweight champion by France's Marcel Cerdan—has had enough of prize fighting.

But, to the $10,375 cash "trade" at Jersey City's Roosevelt stadium, they decided that last night when the inert and deflated Zale didn't leave his corner for the 12th round, thus simplifying everything.

The talk, anyhow, around fight headquarters was of Graziano, the forgotten man, for Cerdan, when he brings the title back with him from France for the first time. Another plausible nominee was welterweight champion Ray Robinson.

Ringiders Aghast

Ringiders, paying a gross of $33,040 into the stadium coffers, were aghast at the spectacle of Zale subduing slowly and haltingly upon the deck late in the 11th for the only knockdown of a none too giddy evening. A right and left high on Zale's bruised and out-raged head was the cause.

The effect was strictly delayed-action—punches, the bell, collapse; just like that, causing cries of "out" from a few of the more rabid witnesses. Referee Paul Cavalier paid these not notable head.

Sits It Out

Neither did Zale. Once back in his corner, there seemed only one sensible thing to do.

He was sitting the rest of it out.

At the outset, Marcel punched himself arm-weary on Zale's bobbing, distressed head trying for a first-round knockout. Then, after losing the opening two rounds, Tony started blasting home body punches with the heavy, sodden impact of a club.

One such in the fourth round topped Cerdan's mouth open like a gaffed carp and made his eyes roll.

Marcel, a wily, resourceful campaigner, took steps to see that this didn't happen after that—by moving a half-step on top of Zale, nullifying his leverage, and constantly circling to Tony's right.

Seconds To Go

This maneuver was so successful that practically nothing happened after that—until the final seconds of the 11th round.

But by everything for seven rounds without decisive results, Tony suddenly seemed all but stricken by two head punches whose "authority" wasn't much greater than those he'd been weathering. For a moment, he swayed drunkenly.

Then the bell sounded, and, with a strangely morbid deliberation, all that was left of Tony Zale, prize fighter, slowly crumbled and lay still.

Cerdan Will Return

Cerdan, his dressing quarters resounding with Gallic fever, promised reporters he'd return to defend the new title. Promising was superfluous. The management had suspended by contractual ar-

THREE CRIPPLES ON UNION SQUAD

Scotties Will Play At Evans City Friday Night, Coach James Worried

With three regulars on the crippled list, the Union High Scotties are getting ready to invade Evans City Friday night for their third game of the season. Coach Charles James announced today.

Coach James is plainly worried as he prepares his squad for the Evans City contest. Lou Grell, a regular end last year and converted to the backfield this year, is out for a few weeks with a badly sprained ankle. He has been doing a fine job in the backfield. Another injured boy is John Plishaw, who has been out since the Evans City contest. Lou Grell, a regular end last year and converted to the backfield this year, is out for a few weeks with a badly sprained ankle. He has been doing a fine job in the backfield. Another injured boy is John Plishaw, who has been out since the Evans City contest.

The third injured youth is Joe Fritz, a junior playing at fullback, he has an injury above his eye. He saw a little action last week in the George Junior game, and may get in briefly Friday.

UMPIRES WILL MEET TONIGHT

There will be an important final meeting of the Lawrence County Umpires association at the "Y" tonight at 8 o'clock. All of the business for 1948 will be concluded, President Albert Conli said.

Penn State football teams have been unbeaten on their home gridiron for 40 of the last 61 years.

New Castle Hi Preparing For Friday Battle

Hassen Or Conti To Take Over At Right Guard For Injured Jasper Williams

New Castle High's "Red Hurricane" football squad has forgotten all about that 67 to 0 victory, over Butler High last week, and are concentrating on the Youngstown East game Friday night at the stadium at 8:15 o'clock.

There will be one new starting face in the New Castle lineup Friday—the severe leg injury to Jasper Williams per Williams, veteran right guard, will keep him out for several weeks it is indicated.

Has Replacements

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh has been experimenting this week with Armon Hassen and W. Conti at right guard, and with young sophomore, Don Tate at left tackle, in the spot held by Hassen the first two games. If Hassen gets the nod at right guard, Tate goes in at left tackle. If Conti gets the right guard spot Hassen starts again at tackle.

Young Tate, a brother of Al, former New Castle High star lineman, and now a cornerback at Illinois University, has come along fast in his first year, and has won a starting job in all probability by his spirit and aggressiveness.

Watch DiFrangis

New Castle is not taking Youngstown East lightly. The East team opened last week by beating Youngstown North, 19 to 6. Roger DiFrangis was the big star for East at right-half. He scored two of the three touchdowns on brilliant runs. DiFrangis is a great break-away speedster.

New Castle will have a few speedsters in the lineup too of course. Wes Lammella, Sammy Keyes and Ralph Paulone, not to mention the reserves—Jimmy Altman, Doc Valenti and Bo Wallace. The "Red Hurricane" last year defeated East 20 to 2. They hope to do as well this year.

Tickets, some 3,000 of them went on sale today, at North Street school basement.

Shenango Victory Prospects Brighten

Nahas Gridsiders Strengthened By Return Of Veteran Full-back Don Park

Hopes for a Shenango victory over an undefeated Zellenople eleven were brightened today by the return to form of Don Park, regular "Wildcat" fullback last year. Coach Eddie Nahas announced that his entire squad would be in better shape this week and that many of the varsity boys would have to fight to keep their starting positions.

Tom McGary will be able to play this week after having missed last week's defeat at Brookfield.

Line Working Hard

Line Coach John Susko has been working his boys hard this week because he knows they will have to give a peak performance if they are to dent Zellenople's powerful line. Sophomore Fred Duckforth has been moved to a tackle slot in order to strengthen the line.

Zellenople has many veterans back from last year's 6 to 0 victory over the Nahas gridsiders. So far this season they have a 25-0 win over Darlington in addition to a scoreless tie with Mercer.

The game is scheduled for 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Shenango High field.

EAST SIDE SERIES GAME POSTPONED

Darkness forced postponement of the East Side Shamrocks and third U.P. softball game last night after 4 innings of play.

Frank Fannin, manager of the Shamrocks, stated that the game will be played Wednesday at the Rose Avenue field starting at 6 p. m.

Youths To Eat Wieners, Corn

Approximately 110 boys will be entertained at a corn and wiener roast at 7:30 p. m. tonight at Cascade Park by the Program for Youth committee of the Lawrence County Council of Sportsmen.

Other events scheduled follows:

Saturday, September 25: Oakland club; family night, at the club's grounds. Corn and wiener roast at 7:30 p. m.

Thursday, September 30: Motioning Sportsmen's club meeting at Hillville, at 8 p. m.

Wednesday, September 29: All council club presidents are to meet with Joseph Waskins to discuss important affairs, the time and place to be announced later.

Because of unfavorable weather conditions the corn roast which was to have been held by the Lawrence County Sportsman's association last night at their Harbor farm, was unable to be held.

City-Industrial League Elects

The City-Industrial Tenpin league got away to a flying start at the Castle alleys last night, on the 1948-49 season. Following the matches an election of officers was held which resulted in the following men being elected to handle the league—President Lou Nann; secretary, Steve Kiro; treasurer, Frank Palumbo.

Teams in the league are—United A.A. (the champions last year); Rouzous, (the runners up last year); American Dry Cleaners, Vernors, W. F. DeCarbos and High-Spots.

Boston Braves Can Clinch Flag Today

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(INS)—The Boston Braves could clinch their first National league pennant in 34 years today.

This long-awaited event will come to pass if the Braves defeat the St. Louis Cardinals again this afternoon and the Brooklyn Dodgers lose another one to Pittsburgh. A Boston victory would eliminate the Pirates also, even though the latter won.

But come today, tomorrow or the next day, the clinching of the flag by Boston now is inevitable. The Braves, now boasting of eight straight wins, their longest streak of the season, have knocked off their leading rivals—Brooklyn, Pittsburgh and St. Louis—one after another in hand-to-hand battles.

Braves Win Two

The finish was brought suddenly and dramatically closer yesterday as the pace-setting Cardinals downed the third-place Cardinals twice while the second-place Dodgers, now 7 1/2 games behind, lost two to Pittsburgh.

The veteran Johnny Sain racked up his twenty-second victory and his sixth in succession in winning the opener, 11 to 3. The rookie, Vern Riffe, held the Cards to four hits and blanked them 4 to 0 in the Nightcap.

Pirates Win Two

Pittsburgh's first victory over Brooklyn was a ninth-inning play-off of a protested contest. The Pirates had only one out left to overcome a two-run lead, but they did it when Stan Rojek doubled with the bases full to give the Bucs an unexpected 12-to-11 win.

In the second game little Vic Lombardi, who like Rojek is a former Dodger, trimmed Brooklyn, 6 to 3.

The fifth-place Giants also have an outside chance for second money. Yesterday afternoon their ace, Larry Jensen, racked up his eighth victory when Johnny Mize's three-run homer, his thirty-eighth circuit-clout of the season, gave him a 3 to 2 decision over the Cubs.

Cubs Snap Streak

In the night game Chicago snapped a 10-game losing streak by noosing out the Giants, 3 to 2.

In another night game, the Philadelphia beat Cincinnati, 6 to 1, after the Reds had won 6 to 5 in the afternoon.

Indiana-Red Sox Tonight

In winning yesterday, the Red Sox racket Mel Parnell with a fine attack that produced a 10 to 2 conquest of the Detroit Tigers.

The Washington-White Sox night game at Chicago was rained out. A Cleveland victory today over Boston, of course, would see the Indians and Sox tied for the lead, and in such an event the Yankees could move to within half a game of the top by beating the White Sox in their game at Chicago tonight.

County Leaguers Meet Thursday

President Alex Samuels, asks that all managers and officials of the Lawrence County baseball league be at the Sporting Goods store at 5 o'clock Thursday evening for the final meeting of the league.

All of the 1948 business will be brought to a conclusion.

INDIANS-RED SOX GAME MAY DRAW 80,000 TONIGHT

CLEVELAND, Sept. 22.—(INS)—Regardless of the outcome of tonight's important clash between the Boston Red Sox and the Cleveland Indians, Tribe hurler Don Black will be a sure winner. For Black, still dangerously ill in a Cleveland hospital following a brain hemorrhage, will receive more than $40,000, bulk of the gate receipts poured in by a crowd that may top 80,000.

"Don Black Night" came into being last Friday when Tribe President Bill Veck announced that all proceeds beyond advance sale as of that time would be turned over to the stricken pitcher.

Setting Of Novels In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG—Two new books about Pennsylvania have been published this year just before the statewide celebration of Pennsylvania Week, the State Department of Commerce announced today.

"Into the Morning," a new book by Hervey Allen, author of "Anthony Adverse" and "Bedford Village," was released August 26 by Rinehart & Company. The novel is one dealing with frontier days in Pennsylvania, particularly in the area around Carlisle.

"The Spanglers," a new book by Henry Cantor, of Lancaster, is being released this week by Doubleday & Company. It is a story dealing with the Lancaster section of Pennsylvania during the Civil War period.
